THE EMBARRASSING TRACK RECORD OF A TOBACCO MONOPOLY

In ongoing Congressional debates on Sin Tax Reform, those who wish to protect the status quo are quick with sound bites and scare tactics. "Tobacco excise is a stable source of government revenues." "The tobacco industry is the goose that lays the golden eggs." "There is no unequal treatment between existing and new brands." "Change will hurt the farmers." The list of baseless rhetoric goes on and on.

But will these sound bites stand up to real facts?

Question 1: Does tobacco excise revenue in the current system keep pace with what the Philippine economy needs?

Excise Tax Collection as % of GDP

Source: World Bank, World Development Indicators, 2011. Downloaded from data.worldbank.org by M. C. Mendoza, 2012.

The tobacco industry, led by the monopoly, has failed to be a good corporate citizen and HELP PHCE with the needs of the Philippine economy. At minimum, tobacco revenues should keep pace as a percentage of GDP. Minus an honest developing economy, the percentage should GROW.

Question 2: Where did the lost revenues go?

PMPW's profits* before merger with FTC... but imagine how much it would be after the merger!

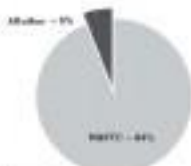

Source: SEC Filings, PMPW, 2010. Downloaded from www.sec.gov by M. C. Mendoza, 2012.

It's clear who benefits under the excise system, that the Philippine Government is people. But a company that triples its gross profits in six years. Must be a record how many Filipinos have tripled their pay in six years!

Question 3: What is the state of competitiveness in the industry today?

State of Competitiveness in the industry

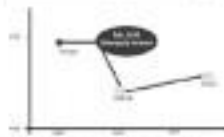

Source: BATF, 2011. Downloaded from www.batf.com.

There is no competitiveness in the industry. The playing field is not level. 1986 brands are taxed lower than new brands. The system protects the monopoly and discourages new entrants.

Question 4: What are the effects of the monopoly on those who depend on tobacco as a livelihood?

The tobacco monopoly is hurting the farmers

Source: The Tobacco Growers' Association of the Philippines, 2010.

Price of tobacco leaf went down drastically immediately after the emergence of the monopoly. While those leaving the status quo shed necessary tears for the plight of tobacco farmers, it is a clever ploy to keep the status quo. TWO CAN HURT TO TOBACCO FARMERS IS TO INCREASE THE NUMBER OF BUYERS BY INFLATING THE PLAYING FIELD.

UNDOUBTEDLY, THE TOBACCO EXCISE SYSTEM IS BROKEN – AND IT NEEDS TO BE FIXED NOW!!!

Support the Government's push for Sin Tax Reform – for the Philippines, for the farmers, and for fair market practices.

Filipino scholar selected as Young Global Leader by World Economic Forum

A Filipino Congressman has been selected as one of the 2001 Young Global Leaders by the World Economic Forum.

Representative Carlos S. Domingue, Jr. was one of the youngest selectees for this prestigious award. He is the youngest Filipino to be selected for the award.

Domínguez was born in the Philippines but is now a resident in the United States. He is a member of the Young Global Leaders program, which is a leadership development program for young leaders from around the world.

The program is organized by the World Economic Forum, a Swiss-based organization that promotes global economic cooperation.

NCMF celebrates its 2nd founding anniversary

The National Commission on Maritime Fisheries celebrated its second founding anniversary on March 22, 2000.

Secretary of Agriculture Antonio Trillanes (right) with NCMF officials.

The NCMF was created by Executive Order No. 100, signed by President Ferdinand Marcos in 1978. It is a government agency that promotes the development of the maritime fisheries sector.

Secretary of Agriculture Antonio Trillanes, who is also the Secretary of the Department of Agriculture, presided over the anniversary celebration.

Trillanes said that the NCMF has made significant contributions to the development of the maritime fisheries sector over the past 22 years.

He said that the NCMF has been instrumental in the development of the maritime fisheries sector, particularly in the areas of research, extension, and regulation.

Wendell's new book, Why, contains a collection of papers. With few exceptions, however, it reads like a collection of essays rather than a book. The essays are written in a style that is both accessible and engaging. The book is a good read for anyone who is interested in the history of the United States and the role of the federal government.

Finding the spirit of innovation in a bottle

In 1981, Louis Armande (Armande) Legrand was inspired to start the production of wine with the spirit of innovation.

Every day, Armande Legrand presents its wine-making skills to the world. From limited editions to the classic, unique presentation of being innovatively contemporary. For its multi-ethnic, Armande Legrand presents the Red Edition series. This represents the dynamic nature of the brand and reflects the spirit of innovation.

Armande Legrand introduced the Red Edition series with a red wine from the 1981 vintage in the Port. Armande Legrand for the brand's 30th anniversary. The brand's 30th anniversary is the most and most significant milestone for the brand. The brand's 30th anniversary is the most and most significant milestone for the brand.

Osteoporosis: Boning up on treatment

BY WILLY MANTOYAN

Dr. WILLY M. MANTOYAN, MD

HAVE YOU EVER heard of a condition called osteoporosis? It's a disease that weakens bones and makes them brittle. Healthy bones are actually built from calcium, which is absorbed from the food you eat. If you don't get enough calcium, your bones will become weaker and more prone to fractures.

The most common way to improve the problem is by taking calcium.

For the uninitiated, the misconception of an osteoporosis-related fracture can be devastating. Many older adults are surprised when they find out that they actually suffered a fracture. A common cause of this is osteoporosis, a condition that weakens bones and makes them brittle. Healthy bones are actually built from calcium, which is absorbed from the food you eat. If you don't get enough calcium, your bones will become weaker and more prone to fractures.

While it's easy to guess a healthy diet is the answer, it's not always so simple.

The main goal of treatment is to prevent fractures by slowing bone loss or strengthening bone. Healthy bones are in a state of continuous breakdown and rebuilding in a process called remodeling.

Hot tips on restoring male machismo

Dr. David Padua

Your testosterone levels may be low, and you may not know it. Low testosterone can lead to a variety of problems, including decreased energy, decreased libido, decreased muscle mass, decreased bone density, and decreased cognitive function. It can also lead to depression, anxiety, and other mental health issues. If you suspect you have low testosterone, it's important to get it checked out. Your doctor can order a blood test to measure your testosterone levels. If they are low, there are several ways to restore them.

One way is through lifestyle changes. Regular exercise, particularly strength training, can help boost testosterone levels. A healthy diet, rich in protein and healthy fats, can also be beneficial. Getting enough sleep and managing stress are also important. If lifestyle changes aren't enough, there are medical treatments available. Testosterone replacement therapy (TRT) is a common treatment for low testosterone. It involves taking testosterone supplements, either in the form of pills, injections, or gels. TRT can help restore testosterone levels and improve symptoms.

Andropause should not be taken lightly because, aside from the usual loss of libido, weight gain, hot flashes and night sweats, there are serious symptoms such as impaired memory, depression, heart condition, etc.
